

Cops Burn Marijuana Worth $1-Million

LEMONT -- A ripe marijuana field, located near southwest Lemont, was destroyed by police Friday evening. Police said that the field "had all the fervor, if not the profit, of a modern-day gold rush."

According to Lemont police, for weeks pickers of the illegal plant had flocked to the remote field to harvest a crop that had been estimated to be worth as much as one million dollars.

Charles G. Ward, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, stated that the "rush" was now over, following the burning. The ten-acre field was destroyed with fire and defoliation chemicals.

Ward stated that the action ended a month's surveillance of the field in which dozens of pickers were arrested for possession of the dope. Pickers came with cutting tools from as far away as California and Washington, D. C. A few of the pickers even carried crude maps pinpointing the more lush plant growths. Others arrested were identified as members of the Head Hunters, a motorcycle gang.

The field overlooks the Calumet Sag channel at a point where the channel flows into the Chicago Sanitary and Ship Canal.

The arrests and surveillance began on a tip from the Lemont Police Department, headed by Chief Frank Sowa. Arrests were made by the state's attorney's police and members of the Cook County sheriff's police and Illinois bureau of narcotics control.

According to Ward, action was kept secret until Friday so that the arrests could be made. He said the field was destroyed when the number of pickers declined, apparently after word that authorities were in the area.

Police confiscated more than 100 pounds of the weed

The car was seized for hauling contraband.

Chief Sowa stated that some of the confiscated weed will be kept temporarily and used by members of the police department for lectures against its use to parents in the Lemont area.

Lady Bartenders Asked; 7th 1-Way

By MARGE RATCLIFFE

LOCKPORT -- The Lockport City Council decided at their Monday night meeting to temporarily establish one-way traffic on 7th St., east from Madison St. to Rt. 7 (9th St.).

Their decision came after a letter was read from Roy Sprague, superintendent of District 91, asking for formal action on this matter.

Seventh St. passes in front of Milne Grove School and several council members stated that the situation as it stands is very dangerous.

The traffic hazards created by buses unloading children, parents dropping off children, teachers parking personal vehicles and children walking to school was described by one council member as "unbelievable."

Mayor George Nordstrom related an incident that he was involved in several days ago while waiting for a bus to unload passengers. He said a woman in a car pulled around the bus and then found fault with the mayor for blocking her way.

Nordstrom said he explained that it was illegal to pass a bus stopped for the purpose of loading or unloading passengers.

He further expressed the feeling that many citizens do not seem to be aware of this law.

The street will temporarily become one-way effective Monday, Oct. 27. The street department will get the signs and install them.

Cliff Mulbarger, of the Blue Willow Restaurant in Lockport, asked the council Monday night to consider an ordinance allowing women bartenders in Lockport.

Mulbarger stated women today drive taxis and buses, and do all kinds of work that does not entail manual labor. He said that hiring bartenders has become a real problem, as most are hired on a part time basis. Many of these are college students who must be trained but seldom stay six months to a year.

One of the aldermen asked if an ordinance prohibiting women bartenders, unless they are members of the immediate family or are actual owners of the establishment, was not discriminatory.

Nordstrom said that in some cases a lady behind the bar might have a very good influence.

Alderman Wolf asked if the plan could be established on a trial basis.

Mulbarger asked the council to make a decision as quickly as possible. When the Christmas season arrives his restaurant is booked for parties and he needs to hire additional help, he said.

The subject was tabled until the next meeting to allow aldermen to consider the proposed change.

Turn your clocks back

Sunday. Better yet turn them back before you go to bed Saturday night and you will be on time for whatever you have planned for Sunday.

On the last Sunday in April clocks are turned ahead for an hour and Illinois goes on daylight time. On the last Sunday in October clocks are turned back an hour and the region is back on standard time.

Theoretically one is supposed to make up the hour he lost in April when he turns the clock back this weekend.

Block Bonds, Tally Short By 2 Votes

HOMER -- Voters in the Homer School District rejected Saturday a proposal to authorize a bond issue for $182,000. The proposal was defeated by two votes.

The referendum was to authorize the addition of six classrooms, rest room facilities, and storage space to the existing building. The total vote was 147 no, 145 yes, and one spoiled ballot.

An administrative spokesman for the school said that they would have to go back to the voters in 60 days and try to get more people out to vote. He said that state law requires kindergarten classrooms by July 1, 1970, and all the school's classrooms are already filled with regular grades.

Rap Land Zoning Move For Business

CREST HILL -- The Crest Hill planning commission postponed a decision on zoning of the 113-acre Coady farm, at their meeting last Wednesday night, after hearing several residents of nearby subdivisions voice opposition. They objected to business frontage on Black Road.

In a reconvened session following the hearing, the commission announced it would reconsider the zoning request at a special meeting, Tuesday, Oct. 21, at 7:30 p.m. A legal opinion from the city attorney is expected at that time on the status of an easement dividing the north and south ends of the property.

Charles Vavrus, an area land developer, is attempting to get business (B-2) and multiple residential (R-3) zoning for the tract. He has an option to buy the acreage which is north of Black Road between Rooney Heights and Murphy Acres subdivisions.

At the hearing, Vavrus outlined plans to build 42 apartments with 53 units. The apartments, he said, would be similar to those in Crest Hill's Willowbridge complex, which he also built. The apartments would provide housing for 4,450 persons. Parking space would be included to accommodate more than 3,300 cars. One started, the development would be completed in six years.

Opposition to the Vavrus plan came from residents of Glenwood Manor and Timberline subdivisions south of Black Road and from Murphy Acres west of the Coady farm and Rooney Heights, east of it.

An annexation hearing requested by John M. Coady, executor of the Mildred Coady estate, previously scheduled for Monday, has been pushed back to the city council meeting of Nov. 3.

William Mullen, Joliet's corporation counsel, protested the annexation on behalf of the city. The Joliet City Council feels the annexation would prevent orderly growth on the city's west side.

Crest Hill officials have said they are in favor of the annexation because of the increased tax revenue that would result. None of the objectors at the hearing were from Crest Hill.

The annexation would push Crest Hill's population over 11,000.

Crash Kills 2, Hurts 4

Lockport -- Two people were killed and four were injured in a two-car accident on Route 171, two-tenths of a mile north of 151st St. in Lockport, on Oct. 19.

A car driven by Mrs. Bernice Anderson of Summit, Ill., going north on 171, allegedly crossed the center line and struck head-on a car driven by Mary Lou Stump, 24, of Joliet, according to the State Police.

Anderson, 33, and his wife, Rosemary, 27, were both killed. Their children, Mary, 8, and David, 7, passengers in the car were injured.

Also injured was William Stump, 37, a passenger in his wife's car. The Stump car was going south on 171.

Crest Hill Dedicates A Library

CREST HILL -- The Crest Hill branch of the Lockport Township Library at Theodore St. and Willowbridge Road was dedicated Sunday, Oct. 19.

The new library is built on a 150 by 200 foot site donated by Charles Vavrus, developer of the Willowbridge apartment complex. In addition to the library on the upper level, a community room is located on the lower level.

Almost 11,000 books in adult, juvenile and reference categories already are in the library. When completely stocked, the building will hold 30,000 volumes.

The library is open weekdays from noon to 9 p.m., but is closed all day Wednesday. Saturday hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Members of the library board are: Herman Alberico, president; Bernard Havigich, treasurer; Mrs. Raymond Juricic, secretary; Mrs. Calvin Bismarck, George Mushro, Robert Babich, and Joseph Zebell.

Pay Tax? Come To Meeting

LINCOLN ESTATES -- Property owners who would like to know how the money they pay in taxes is being used are invited by the Ann Rutledge school board to attend its meeting Tuesday, Oct. 28. The meeting is held at 8 o'clock in the school.

School board meetings, like the meetings of other taxing bodies, are open to the public but few people attend them unless they have some complaint to voice or favor to ask.

Since the schools get more of the tax dollar than any other set of taxing bodies school board meetings, it was pointed out, property owners could be expected to take an interest in school business. The Rutledge board (Dist. 56-C) is extending a special invitation to its people to attend all the board meetings.

N.L. Sewer Bids Are Held-Over

NEW LENOX -- On the recommendation of Village Engineer Robert Hamilton the opening of bids on the addition to the sewage treatment plant was put over another week in order to give prospective bidders more time to complete their figure.

The bids were to have been opened next Wednesday, Oct. 29, but the time is now changed to Nov. 5.

John Djerf, an associate of Hamilton, told the village trustees that several contractors have taken out plans and it was expected more would take them out now the bidding time has been extended.

In the meantime, the board adjourned its meeting to today, (Oct. 22) when it was to accept the two proposals of Charles Roberson to move and install a vacuum filter, a tank and other equipment at the site.

This equipment must be in place so it can be viewed by the contractors who are bidding on the sewage plant improvement. The cost on each proposal is $1,480 and it is within the province of the village to accept them without a bid as each is under the $1,500 limit.

To take bids on this, it was pointed out, could delay work on the sewage plant for perhaps a month and the engineers are satisfied the prices are good ones.

An ordinance covering the $270,000 general obligation bond issue and setting forth the schedule of payments was adopted by the board on Wednesday of last week and the bonds will be in the hands of the buyers early in November, it was said.

Bids on improvements to the sewerage treatment facilities will be opened in the village hall at 11 a.m. Nov. 5 and the engineers will present the figures to the full village board that night.

At this week's board meeting Trustees Robert Wysock and Jack Batson were scheduled to present plans and estimates on an addition to the village hall.

The present quarters are too small to accommodate the village's growing business and the board has been discussing acquiring new quarters.

It was finally decided to build another room at the west end of the present building. Later the village could build or acquire a new hall. Present quarters began existence as a garage.

The added room Wysock said, would be a 24 x 40 feet and could be used as a meeting chamber. The rest of the building is to be converted into offices, including space for the police department.

The village engineer's office was to have plans and estimates ready this Wednesday to solve the drainage problem of the Inner Court Drive area. Tentative plans suggested last week deemed it best to carry off the water to the west along Francis Rd., but underground.

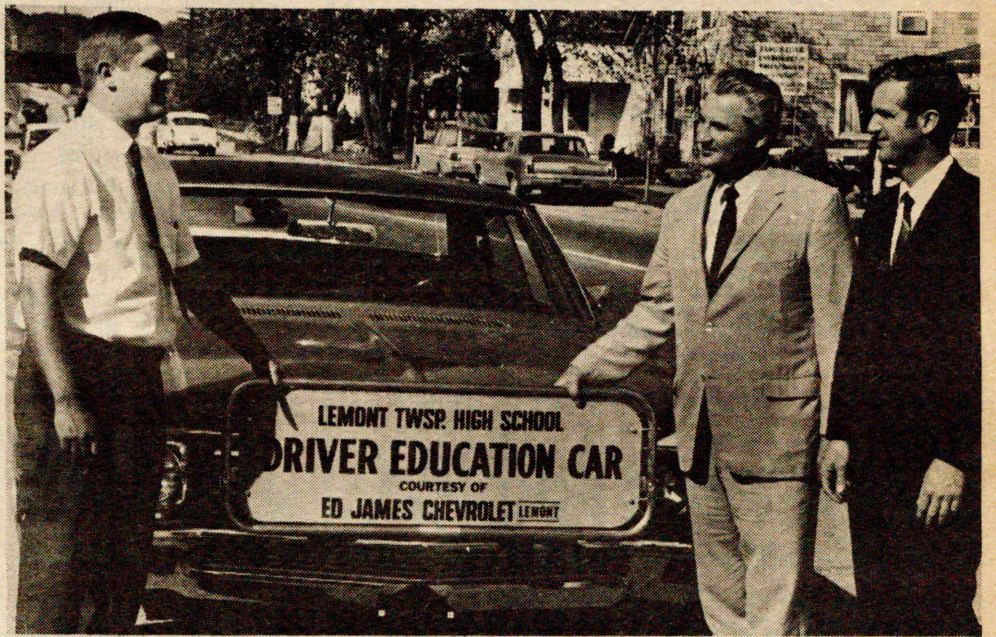

The village board wants to get this matter taken care of before winter sets in. Conditions were aggravated by the recent hard rains and officials, looking ahead at late winter and early spring rains, would like to protect householders against flooding.

The village has had several applications for the job of maintenance man in the water and sewer department, according to William Cox, business manager, and their names turned over to a committee. As of early this week, no one had been appointed.

STUDENTS AT Lemont Township High School were recently given two new drivers education cars for their use by Ed James Chevrolet in Lemont. Accepting the new automobiles was Jan Cralle, drivers education instructor at the school. Making the presentation were Tony Rakes and Ed James. The cars are dual control equipped, and are used by sophomores, juniors and seniors presently enrolled in the driving program. The program is conducted during school hours, after school, and during the summer months. (GRAPHIC Photo) revived the issue with a motion seconded by Trustee Jerry Capps. Trustees William Bessette, John Veninga, and Duane Rosendahl, voted no, Len Kolpacki passed his vote and Betzel and Capps voted yes. Motion was denied.

Repairs of the street at Dalhart Avenues and Arlington Drive brought a request from the contractor for an additional $1,000. Extra excavating was required to reach the clay surface on one side of the street. Following a discussion of responsibility for the previous work, Trustee Jerry Capps voted "no" on the additional payment.

Romeoville Jaycees, asked permission to make another "Kiddie Park" on the vacant lot at the water tower and Murphy Drive. In addition to the playground, there would be baseball diamonds, backstops, benches, and a bus stop for school children. Thanks were given to the Jaycees.

A resolution of thanks was voted to Pete King, of King's Barber Shop for all his efforts on behalf of Romeoville servicemen. King displays photographs of these men in the shop and has done many kindnesses for these men.

Commonwealth Edison will have a hearing on Nov. 12, on their subject of a rate increase. Illinois Commerce Commission officials advised the board that the hearing will be at 160 N. LaSalle, Chicago.

Herbert Schmidtke, representative for Mark Lovejoy, engineer, advised the board that gutter work on Larsen Circle is not satisfactory. Paving of Front Street was discussed. The board has not accepted either of these streets and has a two year period to do so.

Permission was granted to Illinois Bell Telephone Company to erect a building for the purpose of handling area telephone traffic. Re-zoning was passed by the Will County Zoning Board October 7, and a recommendation was made.

Veto Doesn't Hurt Valley View Plan

ROMEOVILLE -- The Valley View School District's year-round plan will not be affected by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's veto of a bill to permit school districts to operate on a full year plan, a spokesman for the governor said today.

The spokesman said the veto removed the option of any school district to operate only one or more schools within the district on a full year school plan, but will have no effect on a full year school plan adopted on a district-wide basis.

Kenneth Hermanson, superintendent for the district, and James Gove, his administrative assistant, went to Springfield to clarify the status of Valley View's plan. Hermanson said they were assured by the governor's office that they would be able to proceed on schedule with the initiation of their plan.

The target date for the plan is June 30, 1970.

Body Halo Is Loaded With Bacteria

Copyright 1969 World Book Science Service

A team of doctors at the City University of London has discovered that there is a layer of bacteria-laden air one to two inches deep circulating next to the skin. The layer is warmer than the general environment and shows up as a halo on photographic plates, using a 19th Century technique in German industry to detect flaws in glass.

Dr. Harold E. Lewis, team director, says this halo contains up to 400 per cent more microorganisms than the immediate environment and may explain formerly unaccountable inhaled doses of airborne bacteria.

Starting at the soles of the feet, the air layer moves slowly upward over the body. At the groin and under the armpits it reverses direction briefly. At the shoulders it spurts upward to dissipate in a feathery plume about five inches above the head. As it flows toward the nose it is inhaled, which may account for some bacterial and viral infections, such as the asthma attacks children get after eczema. High rates of hospital infections could be caused not only by the patients' own bacteria-laden haloes, but also by those of the doctors and nurses who come in close contact with them.

Showering is as useless as dusting with a feather duster. The microorganisms merely settle elsewhere for an hour or so. Dr. Lewis advises nurses and doctors to wear insulating suits to reduce air contamination when total sterility is desired.

DIABETIC DATING -- Dating between diabetic adolescents is hazardous says the chief of the U.S. Public Health Service's diabetic program because such youthful friendships might flower into marriage. Dr. Glen W. McDonald believes that such marriages will not only produce many diabetic offspring, but also other health anomalies.

MOUTH HAZARD -- With all the warnings about what smoking can do to the lungs, the mouth has been almost entirely overlooked. A study at Buffalo's Roswell Park Institute reveals that smoking can lead to gingivitis, stomatitis, nicotine, and delayed socket healing, as well as cancer.

NEW VISUAL FIELD AID -- Researchers at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, Dallas, have devised a new means of mapping a patient's visual field that is much simpler and takes less time than the old method.

POOR SUBSTITUTE -- Some cream and milk substitutes contain 20 per cent more saturated fatty acids and a lot fewer protein calories than the real thing, warns the AMA's Council on Food and Nutrition. "Use of imitation milks in children's diets is undesirable and should be discouraged," it says.

Canada ranks third in world gold production.

The Junior Scientist

The Hazard Of Torn Spacesuits

Copyright 1969 World Book Science Service

As you know, there is no air out in space. If an astronaut's suit ripped open, the air inside it would be rapidly vented away and he'd be stranded in a vacuum. Because liquids boil at very low temperatures when there is no air pressure, the man's blood would boil almost instantly. Maybe...

During some spacesuit tests, a man was accidentally cut off from his oxygen supply while he was inside a vacuum chamber. He passed out. The technicians were able to re-pressurize the chamber rather quickly and it turned out the man was perfectly all right.

Further tests were made, especially with chimpanzees. Now it appears that if an astronaut were suddenly exposed to a near-space environment he would suffer little harm if the exposure did not exceed about three minutes. He would even be able to continue the mission after only three to four hours of recovery time.

We know that the human brain is damaged very rapidly when its oxygen supply is cut off. But, in short exposures to near-vacuum nature somehow protects the vital organs and prevents such damage.

Since men are going to be living and working in space before too long -- and visiting what might be rocky or otherwise hazardous bodies -- it is good to know that a torn spacesuit will not necessarily be fatal.

Paste the picture on a piece of cardboard. When it's dry, cut out the pieces along the outside lines and see if you can put the spacesuit back together again.

Seek 68 Acres

ROMEOWILLE -- The Village trustees voted to enter into a contract to purchase more than 68 acres of land for recreation purposes west of Lake Shirley at their meeting last Wednesday night. The action was announced following an executive session.

Herbert Schmidtke, of Lovejoy Engineers, told the trustees that the grading on Larsen Court was not satisfactory. The board has a two-year period to decide whether they will accept the street.

Another attempt was made to pay attorney's fees for George Ketchmark, a bill for $1,080 resulting from a lawsuit involving former Romeoville Police Chief Michael Maher. It was once again defeated.

The board approved payment of an additional $1,000 for construction work at Dalhart Ave. and Arlington Drive. When excavation was begun, it was found there were extra materials to be removed, resulting in the added charge.

Peace In Our Time?

The Vietnam war moratorium has come and gone. It was the first of an expected number of these nationwide demonstrations against further continuation of American intervention in Southeast Asia.

For the most part the moratorium was an orderly protest which says much for those sincerely dedicated to this ideal. This was not the ragtag nonsensical mob action of the SDS, nor was it a momentary outpouring of hysterical emotion. Doctors, lawyers, businessmen and just folks prayed, marched and voiced their desire to see an immediate end of the seemingly endless killing of American men in Vietnam.

In Chicago, thousands gathered in the Civic Center Plaza waving banners depicting the dove of peace and listening to speeches of a kind. Until the appearance of David Dellinger, Rennie Davis, Abbie Hoffman, John Froines, Lee Weiner, Tom Hayden and Jerry Rubin the dignity of the 5,000 plus protesters was impeccable. Despite this momentary eclipse of an otherwise shining example of honesty the forcefulness of the group cannot be ignored.

President Nixon has expressed his policy of not being swayed by the protestations of the peace seekers. It is his contention that the President must do what he feels is the best course for the country as a whole and with consideration for the long pull. There is something to be said for the President's views. We are committed by action in treaty and political persuasion. Whether this commitment should now be withdrawn is debatable. The consequences of total withdrawal of American aid to Vietnam could very well be a course of irreparable damage to future foreign relations.

On the other hand there is the possibility of a completely docile acceptance of a course of action which seems to be gaining popularity throughout the world. If America renounces the Tonkin Bay document and remits the people of South Vietnam to their own destiny it is hoped they may find some suitable coalition with their enemy to the North.

The line of demarcation, between those who would desert the South Vietnamese and those who feel we should continue the conflict to a final military victory, is a fine line indeed. Perhaps the only clear cut line is the apparent belief of the fighting men that the cause and the effort is just. That the soldier should find the suffering acceptable is paradoxical to the yearning of these same men to return home as quickly as possible.

Whatever the outcome of the next few months in the life of the President, he must surely feel the need to recognize this heartfelt protest of the American people. Decisions which might result in the deaths of American citizens are not easily made. It is to be hoped that the President's decision will soon bring peace in Vietnam and a greater togetherness among the American people.

The term dissent has come to mean many things in American society in recent times. It gets at the very foundations of American beliefs, American life.

As recently as 1958, or 11 years ago, the Thorndike-Barnhart Dictionary described dissent as "to differ in opinion, disagree, as to refuse to conform to the rules and beliefs of an established church..."

Obviously times have changed in this last decade. Dissent has come to be mixed up with what is so often described as "freedom of speech." Very simply put, the term dissent is a household phrase which comes right into the homes of Americans. It is all around us. And that is one place such an issue is heeded. Get it into the home, and it gnaws at all of us, the mighty and the non-mighty -- the everyday citizen.

And that is as it should be. Dissent, whether referring to disagreements with things as we knew them in 1958, or as we know them today, if dealing with life in these United States, must ultimately come into the home, into the living room, into the bedroom, into all of us where ever we are.

That is the only way it has been proven beyond a doubt Mr. Average American gets involved.

The couple of hundred leftist bandits who ran wild in the Loop area the week before last advocating the overthrow of this form of government, pillaging and destroying in an orgy of malcontent were not dissidents. They were a lunatic fringe with deep psychological problems, so far from reason as to be a danger to all society, whether here or in an enemy camp.

An enemy camp would have killed them as too dangerous to its system, similar to the Russian Army murders of thousands of German youngsters in what is now called East Germany in 1945 at the end of World War II.

The Soviets liquidated the young in savage massacres in cities and towns along the agreed meeting line of American and Russian forces in central Germany rather than to bother with them.

The American forces worked at rehabilitating these same Hitler youth on the American side. It was an overwhelming task, but our side "saved" many of these tortured young. That was a quarter of a century ago.

God gave us two ends, one to sit on and the other to think with. A man's success depends on which he uses most. It is a case of heads you win, and tails you lose.

"I'm stuck with the whole case, and believe me, folks, it's great stuff!"

Let's Not Defeat Ourselves

In Chicago the week before last, these same tortured young were allowed to express themselves if they know how, but they did not. They went on a rampage, completely out of control.

Each generation has had this experience with some segment of itself, a very small and disturbed mind group.

They were not liquidated in this year of 1969 in Chicago, Illinois, despite their crimes, because dissent is a built-in part of the American system -- and we must protect it, or the American system will no longer exist.

The most dangerous threat to the American system today is not this irrational revolutionary, but that popularly described common citizen, the sidewalk patriot, who would call upon his government at the highest level to pass laws to legally restrict such outbreaks.

A government with such laws in its arsenal would not be the American system, and the citizen-oriented government would no longer exist. One law to curtail labor, honest dissent, would liquidate the labor movement -- the unions -- and all forms of disagreement within the system over night. Thus the greatest challenge to Americans today is their ability to hear meaningful dissent by all means -- letters in the mail, and marching on the street.

The citizen in America today who is so outraged by small bands of students running wild on the nation's college campuses and all other -- to them -- incomprehensible acts of so-called revolutionaries that he would sanction, and indeed call for federal restrictions on such behavior, is as sadly undeserving of such a nation as the United States. It would be an act of neglect similar to the millions of duped Germans in the years 1932 through 1939 when a government utilized the very same discontent to stir an entire nation into the turning over to the government total control of such discontent.

The protection and development of the American system is the first priority project of all the citizens of the American system. We lose track occasionally of the government's role in this system -- that it is here at our will, not as a separate entity. It is here to serve us, not to enslave us.

We must have dissent. Dissent is the crux of the American system. It allows any citizen, or group of citizens to speak out when the citizen's government begins functioning independently of the citizenry, or when that group of citizen's government goes off on its own.

The key is orderliness and objectivity. Even the government of the citizens must have rules, and the current American system has such rules. But no country in the history of the world has had such broad rules for dissent. This is a government with the greatest degree of citizen freedom available to it on record. The total government may be turned out in the election booth. No other government on earth ever promised and delivered such citizen control.

Oct. 15 was the day of a so-called nationwide moratorium to protest the war in Vietnam in which the United States is involved and in which over 40,000 American soldiers have been killed, and over 150,000 American soldiers have been seriously wounded...

The war in Vietnam is without a doubt, from the American standpoint political situation this country has ever found itself in, and that takes in a lot of ground. America has found itself in plainly lousy wars before. Take the abominable Spanish-American War at the turn of the century for example, often described as "that splendid little war." There are others.

It was peanuts. Today we are hung up in a war on the Asian mainland against Asians, a deplorable situation which we were warned against by some of our greatest Americans -- General Douglas MacArthur being the best example. We have nearly 1 million men totally committed to a war in a country which has been at war with various opponents for more than three decades.

There has never been a clean war, and this is one of the most stinking, messy wars of the lot...

But, those who have initiated this moratorium... across the country, with strong support of the television and various other mass media of the same frame of mind, have not been honest with the general public on the issues of this dissent. Dissent is easy. All you need is a sign and a sidewalk to walk on.

The people who are using the moratorium... (Continued on Page 22)

Cost of Living Dominates Voter Concern

SURVEY SHOWS WHAT CONGRESSMEN SEE IN NATIONAL MOOD

(Copyright 1969, By Congressional Quarterly, Inc.)

WASHINGTON -- Senators and Representatives who have been sounding out their constituents say the rising cost of living is the dominant concern of voters across the nation.

A Congressional Quarterly survey of Members of Congress shows legislators feel pocketbook questions overshadow all others in the minds of Americans.

Highlights of the survey:

--Public sensitivity to inflation has heightened concern over high interest rates, government spending especially for military purposes, and tax reform.

--The war in Viet Nam remains prominent in the minds of citizens, though in terms of articulated concern it frequently appears secondary to economic-oriented issues.

--Some Members of Congress reported voters associating mounting prices with the war and with military spending in general. Strong sentiment for ending the war was reported all across the country.

--In addition to inflation and the war, the legislators found concern over crime, campus disorder, pollution of the environment, civil rights, school desegregation in the south, welfare reform and farm prices.

General Uneasiness

Some legislators detect a general uneasiness which cannot be laid to a single issue.

Rep. John W. Byrnes (R. Wis.) cited an "unsettled feeling" in his district. He attributed it to a combination of the war, crime, an increasing amount of pornography, changing mores, unrest on the campuses and disorder in the cities. He reported "rising concern over the lack of a disciplined society" which has caused a "basic unrest."

Sen. Mark O. Hatfield (R. Ore.), after completing a 2,500-mile tour of his state, said people "see the interrelationships between inflation, high taxes, riots and disturbances, military spending and Viet Nam."

Rep. Otis G. Pike (D. N.Y.) sensed a "great disillusionment with the political process in general." Another New Yorker, Richard L. Ottinger (D.) said "people are not very optimistic about Washington."

Sentiments on Nixon

Members reported general satisfaction among voters over President Nixon's pace and style of administration. Chicago Democrat Rep. Dan Rostenkowski said he was surprised to find that the President "is very well accepted." Sen. Robert P. Griffin (R. Mich.) said Nixon "has gained significantly since the 1968 election." Sen. Hugh Scott (R. Pa.) cited "a feeling that Nixon is doing the best he can in a difficult situation he inherited."

Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr. (D. N.J.) said people generally feel Nixon is doing "OK" even while they are "generally unhappy with their life condition -- pollution, transportation, prices, violence, crime . . ."

Talk about Kennedy

Many legislators said the Chappaquiddick Island incident involving Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D. Mass.) was a prime subject of conversation among constituents, many of whom were skeptical about Kennedy's account of the incident.

Sen. Frank E. Moss (D. Utah) cited "bewilderment and disbelief" in his state over the incident.

Rep. Catherine May (R. Wash.) reported hearing mostly unfavorable comments about Kennedy's behavior.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale (D. Minn.) said "people are in a quandry about Kennedy."

But Members of Congress reported the most intense feelings generally focus around pocketbook issues.

Broad Concern Seen

"This is the greatest concern over the cost of living that I have found since I have been in public life," said Sen. George S. McGovern (D. S.D.).

"The cost of everything -- food, to send the kids to school, buildings, rents and real estate -- is the major concern," said Sen. George D. Aiken (R. Vt.).

Rep. Jerry L. Parnis (R. Calif.) said, "Not every family has lost someone in Viet Nam. Every family is affected by inflation."

In North Dakota, reported Sen. Quentin L. Burdick (D.) "farm prices and the high interest rates are the major concern. Other issues are lower on the totem pole."

Similarly, after a speaking tour in rural

Swing Shift

By ED DECKER

It is becoming increasingly clear that the morale of yours truly declines in direct relationship to the decreasing value of the paycheck. When the cost of living goes up, I am down. . . but really down.

The government contends that the economy is now showing signs of maintaining the status quo. Prices should level off and interest rates will go down????? This pipe dream reads well and must do wonders for the egos of the Washington seers, but when it comes to political pronouncements - I'm from Missouri.

All this wondrous publicity stems from the fact that the present administration has cut government spending, thereby upping the unemployment figure, which in turn effects the booming gross national product ($900 billion), and all this contributes to less consumer purchasing which

Texas, Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough (D.) said dominant issues were high interest rates, farm price support decreases, high taxes and the war, in that order.

Rep. Chester L. Mize (R. Kan.) said "my people want some immediate relief at the consumer level, so much so that they are willing to live with wage and price controls."

Urban Congressmen said constituents were zeroing in on food prices. Many Members of Congress reported considerable complaints from fixed income citizens, especially oldsters. Rep. Louis Stokes (D.) from Cleveland said "the term inflation and what it connotes economically is too sophisticated for the little guy. What he does talk about is interest rates and how they make it impossible for black people to get mortgage loans."

Comment on Taxes

Legislators reported considerable lack of knowledge among voters over details of the tax reform legislation but found constituents firm in the belief that some form of relief was desirable and imminent.

"I hope the tax reform measure doesn't rebound against us," said Rep. Torbert H. Macdonald (D. Mass.). "I'm afraid the taxpayers are expecting more relief than they are going to get."

Rep. Carl D. Perkins (D. Ky.) said one of his constituents remarked: "Well, I see everybody up there in Washington got a pay raise. I guess maybe it's our turn now."

Federal Spending Criticized

Members reported general dissatisfaction with government spending, most of which seems to focus on the costs of the war and military programs.

Rep. Tom S. Gettys (D. S.C.) had a typical comment: "My area is very strong in support of the military, but there are beginning to be some expressions of concern about what many consider waste in military spending."

Viet Nam

Almost every Member in the survey had some comment about Viet Nam.

"People just don't talk about it as much anymore," said Sen. Peter H. Dominick (R. Colo.). "They hope the Administration will get us out of it."

"More and more, people are saying, 'This is Nixon's war,' and I think the President will begin to feel that pressure soon," said Rep. Fred Schwengel (R. Iowa).

Sen. Allen Ellender (D. La.) remembers people saying "Win or get out" during his 1966 campaign. Now, he said, "the message is more like, 'the price is too high to stay any longer.'"

Rep. Paul N. McCloskey (R. Calif.): "My district has shifted amazingly since the election. People are now impatient that the withdrawal should proceed, almost universally."

"I'm running into more and more people who just say we should get out of Viet Nam and forget about saving face," said Rep. Jackson E. Betts (R. Ohio).

The CQ survey was concentrated among Members who spend time in their states or districts during the recent recesses. Eighty Members were interviewed for their assessment of constituent attitudes.

Young Adults, Children Are Losing Money

SOCIAL SECURITY LAW IS CHANGED, BUT MANY UNAWARE

SOUTHWEST -- Thousands of young adults and children are losing out on valuable Social Security benefits because they are unaware that a change in the law has made them eligible.

These eligible beneficiaries are disabled workers under 65 and the children of mothers who died prior to February 1968 but who once worked, possibly even before marriage, on jobs covered by Social Security.

The number of missing beneficiaries is unknown, according to Max Stamler, a assistant district manager for Social Security.

Speaking of the children who are missing out on benefits, Stamler said: "At the time this law was changed we estimated that there would be approximately 200,000 children in the United States who would become eligible for benefits. I think there are still many thousands who have not filed because they are not aware of the change. We are trying to reach them because valuable benefit are involved."

18, or between the ages of 18 and 22 they are full-time students. Providing their deceased mother was fully insured under Social Security, these children are entitled to benefits, even though their father supports them and may have remarried. Furthermore, these children are eligible even if their deceased mother had left the labor market after marriage and was not actively supporting them at the time of her death.

"Before the law was changed," said Stamler, "if the mother had worked under Social Security, but had left the labor market before she died and had not been supporting the children -- the father was supporting the children -- under the old law these children were not entitled to monthly benefits. In February 1968, however, the law was changed so that if the mother had been insured under Social Security, even though at the time she died she had not been working, monthly benefits were payable on her account to any children under 18 or children between 18 and 22 who were full-time students."

Stamler pointed out that there is no problem in finding children of eligible mothers who died after February 1968. "The problem concerns children of mothers who died before February 1968. Under the law in existence at that time they were not eligible, and there would therefore be no way of knowing about them."

Many young disabled workers may also be losing out on benefits. "From time to time," said Stamler, "people come in who could have been collecting for quite some time and who had lost benefits because they didn't file on time."

To qualify, the disabled worker -- who may be as young as 21 or 22 -- must have been insured under Social Security. "If they became disabled after they were 31 years of age they would need at least five years of work in the 10-year period before their disability qualified them. If they became disabled before age 31, it could be as little as a year and a half, depending on the age they became disabled."

The disability must prevent the applicant from doing any kind of work. "If the disability is so severe that they can't do any work and it is expected to last for at least a year, they would be eligible for Social Security benefits beginning with the seventh month they are disabled," Stamler said. Qualified dependents also receive monthly benefits.

Disability benefits are for those under 65, but the disability has to be a severe one. However, Stamler noted that there are many qualifying illnesses and disabilities "that are not the kind that paralyze or leave you helpless." These include a severe heart ailment that prevents the insured, qualified person from working, or an accident that disables the insured applicant for a year or more.

Those with questions about their possible eligibility under either of these programs are urged to contact their nearest Social Security office.

Leaders Are Selected

Other chairman named include Sonny Kandski, Kankakee, physical arrangements; Mike Lawson, Morris, exhibits; Roger Thompson, Kankakee, dinner chairman; John Gerth, Kankakee, Walter Jornlin, Morris, and Art Barr, Joliet, promotion teams; Chuck Williamson, Kankakee, administration; Bud Slansky, Joliet, games; O. Boyd Clow, Joliet, Webelos den; Walt Jornlin, Morris, handicraft; Nelson Fenn, Joliet, skits and puppets.

Dr. Ferris said the Pow Wow is a fun filled training experience for men and women leaders of the cubbing program. BOLINGBROOK -- Approximately 175 people attended the first worship service at New Life Lutheran Church, Rt. 53, in Bolingbrook. Service was held on Oct. 12.

Rev. Orlyn G. Huwe, pastor, read letters of greeting from Dr. R. D. Leckleitner, executive director of the Division of American Missions (ALC), and from Rev. Robert Wegehof of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church (LCA) in Hampton Park. He also extended "greetings and prayers for God's blessings" from Rev. Don Johnson, regional director of the Division of American Missions.

"Your Sins Are Forgiven" was the theme of Rev. Huwe's sermon, based on Matthew 9:1-8. The choir of Theodore Lutheran Church of Crest Hill, under the direction of Alan Freitag, sang two anthems. Miss Mary Arthur of the church served as organist.

Ushers for the service included Roger Williams, Randy Williams, Al Plata, and Larry Plata. Hostesses for the coffee hour were Mrs. Carol Plata and Mrs. Jane Williams.

Present facilities include a worship center which will cost approximately $85,000 when completed and furnished, and a $32,000 parsonage. Approximately four acres are being developed for the new congregation.

Regular schedule of services will consist of family worship and study each Sunday from 10 to 11:45 a.m. The regular schedule began with the services on Oct. 19. A sermon talk-back for adults will be held while the children are in Sunday School classes.

Lions Sponsoring Visit Of Glaucoma Unit Here

SOUTHWEST -- Naperville Lions Club, in cooperation with the Lemont Lions Club, will sponsor a visit of the Mobile Glaucoma Screening Unit to Washington St. in Naperville, Oct. 20 and 30.

The unit will be across the street from the Naperville YMCA, and will be open all day into the evening.

The mobile unit is supported and operated by the Illinois Society for Prevention of Blindness. The unit will help find the 95,000 Illinois men and women over 35 who have glaucoma and don't suspect it.

As a result of the unit check a person is notified whether or not they have the disease. Undetected glaucoma may lead to total blindness. More than half of the persons over 35 who have glaucoma do not know it and are not under treatment. Adults over 35 should be tested at least every two years because the condition of the eye changes as a person grows older, and relative of glaucoma victims are more likely to get the disease.

The program is supported locally by the Lemont Lions Club. For more information on the unit visit contact Robert Kuebler, lions president, 739-1406, or any Lions Club member.

What Hubby Can Do About Your Bills

SOUTHWEST -- What does the law do to help the hard-pressed husband who is having trouble paying his wife's bills?

The man who is head of the household has, by common consent, the right to keep expenses in line with his income, according to the Illinois State Bar Association.

If personal persuasion fails, the ISBA says, there is nothing in the law that says a husband cannot put his wife on a budget, cut off her charge accounts, and take other steps to curb her spending as long as he doesn't practice mental cruelty in the process. If, for example, a man browbeats or humiliates his wife while controlling her spending, she could have grounds for a divorce.

The fact is the law places primary responsibility for the support of the family on the husband and father, and by implication at least, he is expected to fulfill this obligation before any money is spent frivolously.

In particular, the law expects the able-bodied man of the house to provide food, clothing, and shelter for his wife and any children, and otherwise look after their welfare and the education of his children. These become the responsibility of the wife only if her husband is ill or otherwise incapable of earning a living.

In cases where a husband finds he is not earning money as fast as his wife can spend it, he may do certain things, including:

1. Cancel all charge accounts or advise stores and companies that the charge accounts will be cancelled if they honor his wife's signature. In doing this, the husband should ask for a written acknowledgement that his request was received and will be acted upon.

2. Close out any joint checking account at the bank and open an account in the husband's name only.

3. Advise tradespeople or other persons who have provided goods and services that their bills will no longer be honored unless the orders came from the husband.

According to the ISBA, the husband and wife are "jointly and severally liable" for reasonable and necessary family expenses, which means creditors can hold either or both of them liable for payment for all goods and services consumed by the family.

However, a husband may not be liable for a luxury item purchased by his wife for herself, if the item cannot be considered a family expense. Similarly, a wife may not be liable for non-family expense items purchased by the husband for his exclusive use.

A wife does have some rights of her own. She can hold a job and has a right to her earnings. A husband has no authority in the law to prevent his wife from being employed outside the home, nor can he demand her earnings.

A FORUM ABOUT MATURE WOMEN

Widows and Widowers

Dear Miss Brookfield:

I read the letter written by the lonely widow who is seeking a sincere man. I am just as lonely. I have a good job, work hard, own my own home and a car. If this widow is looking for a real swell guy, just give her my address. I am a widower.

A.N., Plymouth, Mass.

Dear Miss Brookfield:

I am writing in answer to the letter from the Oregon widower. I know a lovely lady who is trying to raise two children. She is young, blonde, and a regular churchgoer. She is looking for a man to go to church with her. Could you advise this Oregon widower to either sell or rent his property and move here? There are many widowed women in Robinson, Oblong and Palestine.

M.M., Robinson, Ill.

Dear Miss Brookfield: Dear Miss Brookfield:

I would like to write to the widower in Oregon. Can you supply me with the address, if it's not against the rules. G.R., N. Hinsdale, HN. H.

Dear Folks:

We wish we could introduce each and every lonely widow to equally lonely widowers. But, unfortunately, it is against the rules. We are at a loss for practical suggestions other than that, perhaps lonely widowers migrate to Illinois.

Age for the Menopause

Dear Miss Brookfield:

I want to thank you for inadvertently helping my younger sister through your column. She is 42 and was experiencing night sweats. She would wake up drenched with perspiration. An aunt suggested that she might be going through the changes, but we felt she was too young. We did urge her to go to the doctor but she kept putting it off because she was afraid of what he might tell her. But when we read in your column that night sweats are a common symptom of the menopause, she did see her doctor. He told her she is going through the change and put her on hormone medication. She sleeps comfortably now and feels wonderful. But isn't she rather young for the change of life?

S.G., Madison, Wis.

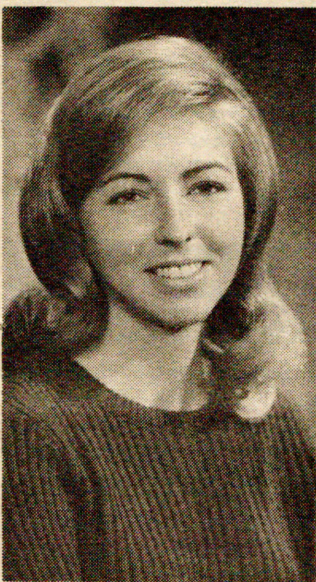

Dear S.G.:

No, she isn't, according to Dr. Kenneth C. Hutchin, author of the book "How Not to Kill Your Wife." This British physician points out that while about half of the women in our western culture experience the change of life between the ages of 45 and 50, another 25 percent go through the menopause between the ages of 40 and 45. Of the remaining 25 percent, half will go through the change before the age of 40 and the other half after the age of 50.

Night sweats, hot flushes, palpitations of the heart are but three of the many common symptoms of menopause. Dr. Hutchin notes that symptoms can start about two years before the menopause -- cessation of the menses -- and in some cases, even earlier. Medical science now knows that these, and other symptoms, are caused by the diminishing supply of the hormone estrogen produced by the ovaries as they cease to function.

-- This is the revolutionary new grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S. and Canada. Word of its success has spread like wildfire because this is the one diet that really seems to work for most overweight people. A well known Toronto columnist recently praised it to the skies. He reported losing 20 pounds quickly and easily long after he despaired of ever getting down to his wartime weight of 165 pounds, all without giving up the occasional beer or rye. If it is followed exactly the average overweight person should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. There will be no weight loss in the first four days. But you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter you will lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all there should be no hunger pangs. Now revised and enlarged, this new diet plan lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly 'forbidden'. Such as big steaks trimmed with fat. Southern fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobsters swimming in butter, bacon, fats, sausages and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you cannot possibly eat any more. And still you should lose 10 pounds in the first ten days, plus 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "Quick weight loss" is not generally known. Fat, it has been theorized, does not form fat. Perhaps fat fights fat. And the grapefruit juice in this new diet might act as a catalyst (the "trigger") to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted foods listed in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. When the fat and bloat are gone you will cease to lose weight and your weight will remain controlled. A copy of this new and startlingly successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $3.00 to The

Urge Education Week Observance

LOCKPORT -- Students, teachers, and citizens are sitting in, walking out, and demanding more from our nation's schools, but the crisis they create is healthy, according to the sponsors of American Education Week.

It will be observed in the Lockport area Nov. 9 to 15. This is the annual visit-the-schools week in which more than 30 million parents participate.

According to Harold C. Scholle, superintendent of Lockport Township High School District 205, boycotts, strikes, and revolts are symptomatic of a new concern for quality education. They serve to sting the complacent citizen into a new awareness of the high cost of inadequate and unequal education, he said.

Demands are being made... students want education relevant to their present lives and future plans, Scholle believes. Teachers want an educational system that allows them to make the best use of their abilities and training. They are calling for a greater voice in instructional decisions and compensation commensurate with their qualifications, he indicated.

Citizens, particularly parents, want their schools to provide students with education which will allow them to function with comfort in the society. Businessmen want a supply of workers who will require a minimum of specialized training for their job, Scholle pointed out.

These demands are not easily met, but they are not incompatible, he believes. They reflect, he said, one common goal: That America's schools be responsive to those they affect. Since everyone today is affected by the quality of education, the theme of American Education Week this year is "Better Education: Your Job."

Scholle emphasized that action designed to upgrade the quality of education in America must be preceded by information.

Both educator and layman in the community must find out who is dropping out from their schools, who is stalling and why.

"We must ask ourselves why teacher morale is low, how much of our teachers' time is taken up with clerical tasks and whether teachers' assignments are appropriate to their qualifications and interests," Scholle said.

He further stressed the need for all citizens to find out how much financial support their schools are receiving, where it is coming from, what amount of money per pupil is spent and how it is spent.

"They should look at how well their schools are housed and equipped, and whether the curriculum gives students the preparation they need and the relevancy they have a right to expect," Scholle said.

The Summit Hill Parent-Teacher Organization held its meeting at the school on Thursday evening, Oct. 9. This meeting proved without a doubt that a topic of widespread interest will draw a large crowd. The attendance was amazing. It would be nice if all PTO meetings were this crowded.

The students from the University of Illinois College of Pharmacy should be commended for the work they are doing. The chairman of the program was Judy Hoch from Bensenville a Junior.

Judy introduced the speakers for the evening: Avery Spunt from Chicago, a senior who spoke on amphetamines, Michael Sullivan from Worth, a Freshman who spoke on barbiturates; Bob Klein from McHenry, a Junior who spoke on marijuana; and Skip Watters from Westchester, a Freshman who spoke on L.S.D.

The movie on the nervous system held the attention of all.

The membership drive was quite successful with one hundred-sixty families signed up with more to come. Those families who haven't signed up and would like to, please, contact the membership chairman Mrs. June Durbin at 479-9501. When you sign up to be a member of the PTO you are helping to support your school. It does not mean you are going to be on a committee or forced to work as so many families seem to think.

We are grateful to the several ladies who made a door-to-door canvas of the area for this membership drive. There will be a $5 award to the classroom with the largest percentage of memberships.

The winners of the "My Pops is Tops" essay contest held at the school from the second through eighth grade were announced. They were given a blue ribbon to wear as a symbol of their honor.

Slap L-W 21-6 In Homecoming

ORLAND PARK -- Sandburg High School had a most enjoyable and successful homecoming last Friday night. Its football team, under the guidance of Joe Devine, scored a 21-6 victory over Lincoln-Way and any school homecoming is counted as a success and happy occasion if its football team wins.

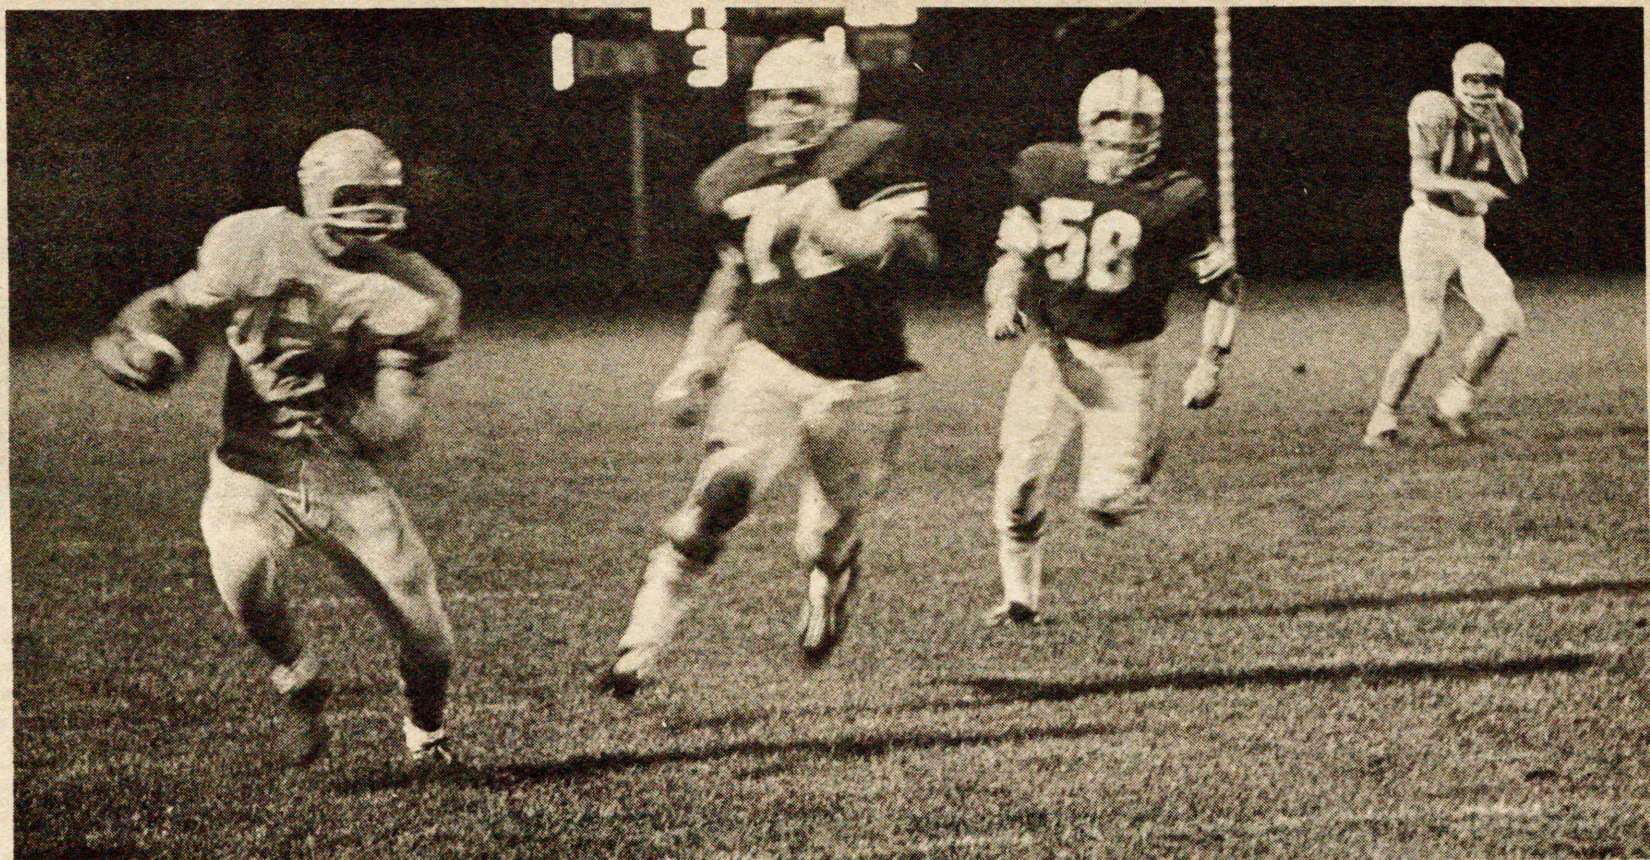

Sandburg has had several happy and successful homecomings because it has been winning a powerful lot of football games over the years. On the other hand Lincoln-Way's homecomings have been glum, if not downright mournful, for the Knights have been losing football games for years.

Under Coach Bill Vogel, now in his third year as varsity mentor, Lincoln-Way is showing great improvement. The team has been losing. It has yet to win a game in conference play this year but it tied Rich East the previous week and Sandburg found it was far from being a pushover. A glance at the statistics will show that. Sandburg had 11 first downs, Lincoln-Way 10. The Eagles made 161 yards rushing, the Knights 157. It was the Eagles aerial attack that was the difference. Sandburg collected 91 yards through passing while the best yardage Lincoln-Way picked up via air was a six.

Sandburg's only loss in 27 outings occurred Oct. 10, when it bowed to Reavis, 14 to 12, and the Southwest Suburban Conference varsity standings were left in a three-way tie. Sandburg, Reavis and Homewood-Flossmoor each had 3 and 1 records.

Sandburg scored early in the game. In fact there were eight minutes and 20 seconds left in the period when Bob Borg hit Rick Vincent, Eagle fullback, with a screen pass and the big back went all the way.

The Eagles got the ball on a punt on their 33 yard mark-

TWO LINCOLN-WAY linemen bearing down on a Sandburg player, Jerry McCarthy, who had just taken a pass from Bob Borg; quarterback (extreme right). About to pounce is Bill Tyler, a tackle and coming up to help is a Lincoln-Way center, Bill Morris. In the final count Lincoln-Way didn't have enough points to have a happy ending to the game.

er and began their march from that point. Ron Larcher moved the ball to the 48 in four carries. Then the pass to Vincent and Sandburg was on the scoreboard, 6-0. A kick by Mike McGhee was good for an extra point and it was 7-0.

The best Lincoln-Way was to do in the first period was get the ball to the Sandburg 35 but ran out of downs. In the second frame the Knights got the ball on their 34 when Sandburg punted and reeled off 11 plays with Harold Webb. Henry Erreck, Rick Otis and Mike DeLay moving it to the Sandburg 22. There the Knights fumbled on a fourth down and one yard situation and the Eagles recovered on their 23.

Then the Sandburgs went to work and in 10 plays and 44 seconds left in the half Borg connected with Ed Le-oni on a six-yard touchdown throw. McGhee's boot made the score 14-0 at halftime.

Late in the third quarter Sandburg was pushed back and Keven Kelly had to punt from deep in the end zone. The Knights starting from the 38. Webb and Otis made eight yards between them in three tries. Then DeLay added four more for a first down.

Some Sandburger grabbed a Lincoln-Way face mask and that put the ball on the 13. Webb made five in two tries and DeLay added seven yards to put the ball on the one yard line. Webb dove over the left side of the Eagle line to score but the run for a two-point conversion failed and it was 14 to 6.

That was the way the quarter ended. In the last period Sandburg partially blocked a Lincoln-Way punt and Leoni taking the ball on the 50-yard mark returned it to the Knights' 21. A one-yard plunge by Larcher and a 14-yard run by Leoni put the ball on the six.

Three plays later Larcher went over from the one and with McGhee's kick the score was 21-6. There was a little over five minutes time left on the clock but neither team could make use of it to add to their tallies.

The Sandburg frosh-soph outfit beat their opposite numbers at Lincoln-Way 20-14.

This Saturday, Oct. 25, the Knights will invade Homewood-Flossmoor for a tilt with that tough outfit.

Lemont Drops To Yorkville For 1st Loss

By RUSS SANDBERG

LEMONT -- Lemont High's five game winning string came to an end at Yorkville High last Friday night, when the Foxes crept off with a hard earned 15 to 14 win.

It was a bitter pill for Lemont to swallow, for they led throughout most of the ball game, and seemingly were in control until a last ditch Yorkville drive paid off.

This defeat dropped the Indians into a first place tie in Northeast Conference competition. Both Lisle and Wilmington have now equalled Lemont's league mark of 4-1. The men of head Coach Jan Cralle and assistant Matt Connor are 5-1 overall.

Wilmington and Lisle come to grips next week end, while Lemont plays host to a pass-minded Sandwich club at the local athletic field on Saturday.

The Foxes served notice early that they came to play when they successfully put together a 60 yard scoring drive on their very first series of downs. Speedster Brad Walker sprinted the final 25 yards to put them on the scoreboard at the 9:01 mark of the first period. Bob Goins' placement put Lemont behind at 7-0.

Lemont made its first offensive bid early in the second stanza after tackle John Benda came up with a loose ball on Lemont's own 37 yard marker.

The running talents of John Schwer, plus a Mike Hennebry to Dick Pierce aerial, moved Lemont to a first down on the Yorkville 27. Hennebry then connected with back Ken Hutchinson, whose great second effort carried to the Yorkville 1 foot line.

Hennebry then went up the middle for our first score. A loss from Hennebry to Schwer gave the Indians an 8-7 advantage with 7:23 remaining in the second quarter.

Yorkville had Lemont in a hole late in the second stanza. They had a first down on the Injun 27, but senior end Dennis Bubinas took care of this threat when he twice broke through to drop the quarterback for big losses.

Senior tackle Rich Gendeman set up Lemont's second score midway through the third period when he took possession of a Yorkville fumble on the Foxes 20 yard stripe.

After a running play had picked up 2 yards, Mike Hennebry then took the overland route to Dick Pierce whose spectacular one handed grab in the end zone pushed Lemont further in front at 14-7. The conversion was missed, a point that was to prove vital in the long run.

Lemont continued to carry the upper hand, with senior linebacker Fred Berndt leading the way. Fred thwarted Yorkville's offensive moves when he picked off an errant toss and later came up with a fumble recovery on the Foxes 36.

Hennebry picked up 5 yards, and then passed to Ken Hutchinson for a first down on the Yorkville 23. Junior end Steve Pociask carried Hennebry's next aerial to the 6 yard line, but a 15 yard penalty set Lemont back to the 38.

Pierce Spencer eventually punted out of bounds at the Yorkville 18, and it was from this point that the Foxes made their successful victory bid.

The fine ball handling ability of quarterback Rod Schobert was instrumental in Yorkville's 82 yard drive.

PARDON COMES too late. Lockport Central outfought Lockport West in the second half but was unable to overcome the Spartans lead and the final score was 12-8. In this picture with a little over two minutes and inches to go on fourth down on their 15 yard line Central's quarterback Gil Fash found a hole on the left side and got to the 39 before he was pulled down. On the next play West intercepted a Fash pass and after that the only luck Central had was bad. (GRAPHIC Photo By Steve Potter)

Spartans Down Porters, 12-8

By DAN KUBAN and MIKE WARD
LOCKPORT -- Lockport West's Chuck Williams ran for two touchdowns Friday night to give the Spartans a 12-8 homecoming victory over a hapless Lockport Central squad.

The Spartans' first 1969 victory in I-8 competition was due to Williams' fine running. Central's fumbles and intercepted passes.

Game statistics show Williams picked up 169 yards in 26 carries for a 6.5 average. His two touchdown dashes of seven and 45 yards came in the second quarter.

Central outfought the Spartans in the second half and initiated a large threat in the last few minutes of play. With slightly more than two minutes remaining in the game Central put the ball in play at their own five-yard line. On a fourth down play, with only inches to go for the first down, Fash dashed through the inside on the left side for a first down at the Porters' 39-yard line.

At this point Williams intercepted a Fash pass and ran a sideline tightrope for 35 yards. A clipping penalty nullified the run, but West had possession at Central's 48-yard line.

With one minute of play remaining Central recovered a Williams fumble at their own 48-yard line. Fash hit Glenn Johnson at West's 25 and Johnson's second effort resulted in a fumble that was recovered by the Spartans. With only seconds remaining to play, West's John Highland ran out the clock on keeper plays.

Although total yardage gained for each team was almost identical the three lost fumbles and three interceptions gave the Spartans the edge. West was penalized a total of 125 yards which contributed to their inability to add to the score.

Tom Saunders, a defensive back and punt return man, scored the only Central TD on a pass from Fash. Saunders also picked up the two-point conversion on a Fash pass.

Central picked up only three first downs in the first half, but West managed only one first down in the last half. Recovered fumbles and interceptions saved the game for them against a spirited second half effort by the Central team.

Next Friday night the Spartans play Joliet West at home while the Porters take on Joliet East in a home game.

Burros Teams' Luck Is Mixed

By MARIE HOVI

MOKENA -- The Mokena Burros Pee Wees, of the Pop Warner Football League, are to be hosts to teams from Bensenville this Saturday, Oct. 25. And on Sunday the Heavyweights will take on Mundelein in a game at Mokena. The Pee Wee games start at 1 o'clock, the heavyweight contests start at 3 p.m.

The Mokena heavyweights lost on its appearance here against Merriville, from Gary, Ind. It was an exhibition contest and the visitors won 18 to 0, after a scoreless first half.

Last Sunday the heavyweights played Franklin Park there but because of mechanical difficulties the outcome of this game cannot be chronicled in this issue. The Lightweights from Mokena were also playing at Franklin Park last Sunday. The Lights played Glenview's No. 2 team Oct. 12 and the contest wound up in a 0-0 tie. Next Sunday at Mokena the Lights will play Maryville.

The Mokena Pee Wees were to have played at Glen Ellyn on Oct. 12 but Glen Ellyn begged off, not wishing to take a chance on tearing up their newly sodded field but staging a game in the rain. The Pee Wees were to have played two games at Mokena last Saturday against Kankakee.

Title Runs To Start This Week

SOUTHWEST -- The annual state cross country championships will be decided Nov. 1 at Champaign.

But before that time there will be a lot of running, as there are 354 downstate and suburban high schools competing, plus the Chicago Public League.

The district meets were held Tuesday of this week. There are 24 district meets and the winners will compete in eight sectionals. The sectional survivors will run it out at Champaign Nov. 1.

Lincoln-Way High School, at New Lenox, is the site of one of the district meets and the winners there will compete at Naperville, this Saturday, Oct. 25.

Assigned to Lincoln-Way, besides the host school, are, Lockport Central, Lockport West, Lemont, Providence, Joliet Catholic, Carl Sandburg, Joliet Central, Joliet East, Joliet West, Plainfield, Minooka, Aurora East, Aurora West, Marmion Military and Oswego.

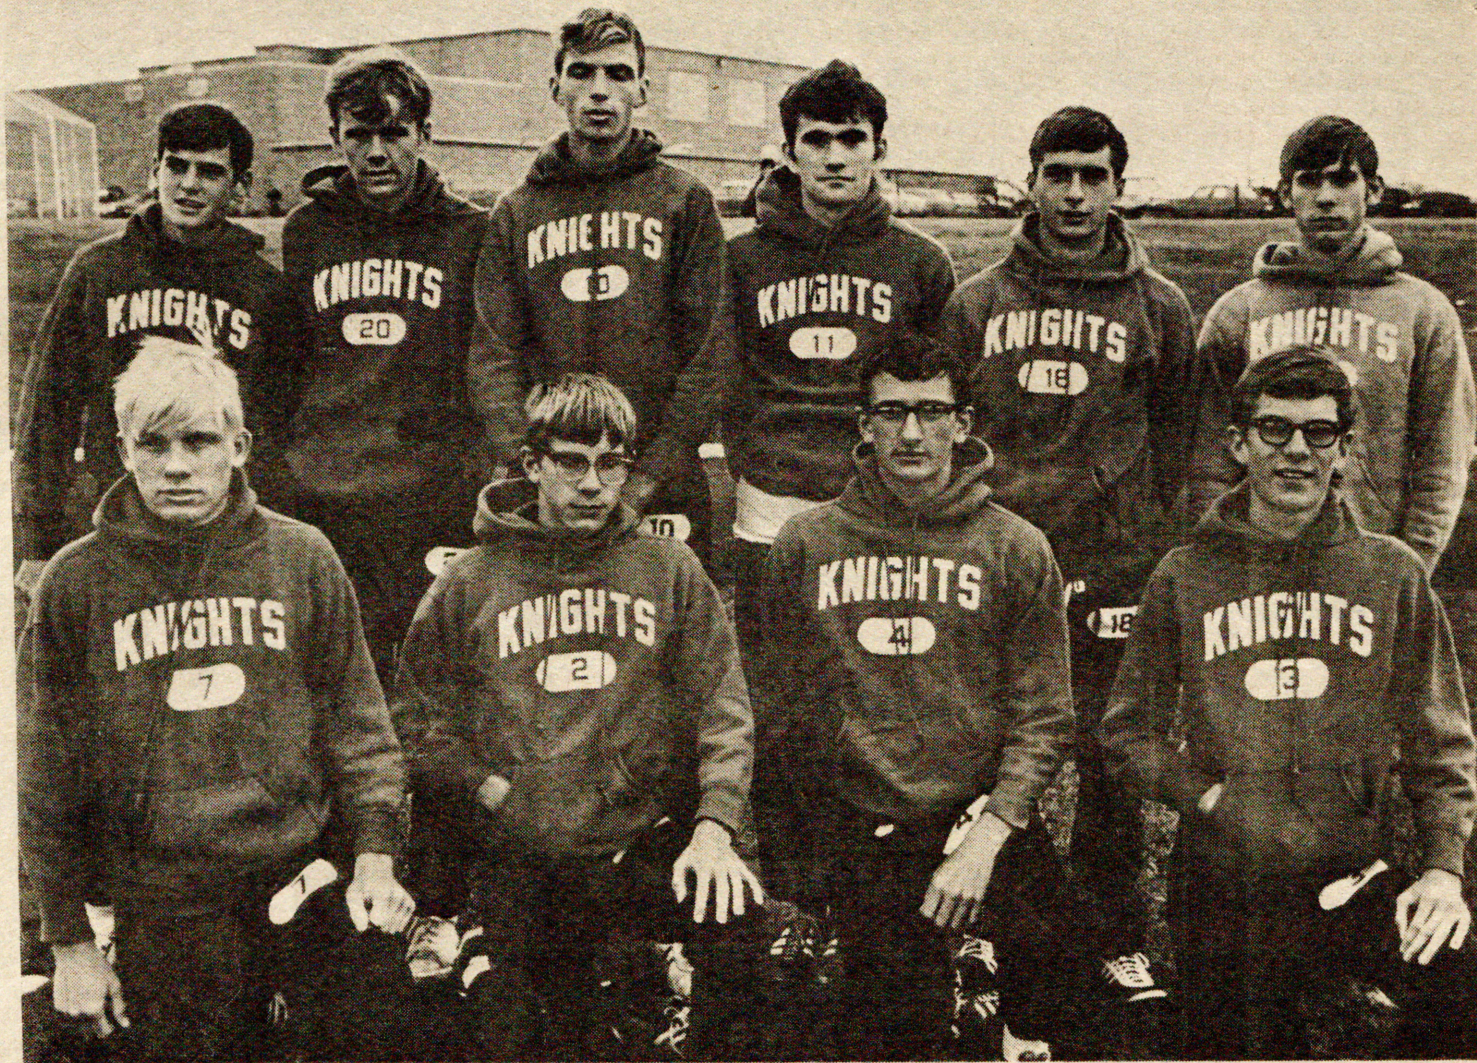

The qualifiers from Lincoln-Way, Rich Central and Glenbard East advance to the Naperville sectional. In previous years the district qualifiers went directly to the state meet at Champaign but the Illinois High School Association has changed the format this year.

Lincoln-Way, which finished third in the state championship last year, is one of the strong cross country teams in the area. It has won 17 out of 17 meets and finished fourth in the invitational at Mattoon Oct. 11 in which 42 schools competed. And its sophomore runner, Dave Merrick, rates high among individuals in the sport.

Each school in a district meet may enter 10 runners, seven of whom are allowed to compete. The top five runners are counted for team honors.

The first 10 individual finishers and members of the first, second and third place teams in a district advance to a sectional. The top five individual finishers and the top three teams from a sectional go to Champaign for the state meet.

The sectional meets Saturday are at Naperville, Barrington, Centralia, Champaign Centennial, Oak Park, Peoria, Springfield Southeast and Sterling.

Coach Joe Rodriguez, of Lincoln-Way, began the process of sharpening his runners for the state meet last week when the squad started its "speed work."

The cross country distance is 2.75 miles.

Plans Party

SOUTHWEST -- Three administrators will represent Creighton University at the annual Chicago Area Creighton Club alumni party, Oct. 25, at the Como Inn in Chicago.

The Chicago Creighton alumni chapter is one of 65 throughout the nation. It serves former students from the Lemont, Lockport, Joliet, Mokena and New Lenox area.

Harriers Take It All In Joliet

JOLIET -- Cross country scoring is like golf -- the lower the better. In golf, however, there is no perfect score while there is in cross country. In high-low poker the perfect score is 15, which is compiled by adding one through five for the first five finishers.

That is what the Lincoln-Way High School cross country team did last Saturday in the annual area meet staged at Inwood golf course here. As a matter of fact Lincoln-Way runners took the first seven places. A team can have seven runners but only count the efforts of five in making up the team's score.

Dave Merrick, a junior, led the finish, having set a new record for the Joliet 2.75 mile course of 13:37. The former record of 13:41 was set earlier this fall, also by Merrick.

The other runners of Coach Joe Rodriguez's outfit finished in this fashion -- Lee Erickson, 2d; Bill Been, 3d; Al Carlson, 4th; Bill Simpson, 5th; Tom Booble, 6th; and John Been, 7th.

Joliet West was second in the meet with 92 points, Joliet Central was third with 101; Lockport Central had 147; Lockport West 154; Crete-Monee 163; Plainfield 190; Morris 205; Providence 208; Joliet East 224; Minooka, 232 and Peotone 257.

Frosh-Soph Sweep By Yorkville, 26-0

By RUSS SANDBERG

LEMONT -- Lemont High's frosh-soph unit encountered little difficulty in sweeping to a 26-0 victory over the Yorkville yearlings in the lid lifter at Yorkville last Friday night.

This win upped the locals to a 4-1 reading in Northeast Conference warfare, and overall we now stand at 5-1 for the season.

Neither team could generate much offensive power in the opening stanza, but Lemont really got up a good head of steam early in the second period.

Starting from their own 36, quarterback George Otto successfully guided his club for the remaining distance. His tosses to end John Dunn, plus the running ability of Jim Weck and Steve Barnett highlighted the drive, with Weck getting the first score from 2 yards out.

An alert John Dunn padded this lead late in the period when he picked off a Yorkville pass and rambled 70 yards for touchdown number 2.

Lemont took advantage of another break early in the third quarter when the Yorkville punter touched his knee to the ground back on their own 27 yard line.

Steve Barnett moved Lemont to the 8 in 2 carries.

Otto then pitched back to Jim Weck, who threw to a wide open Ken Sniegowski in the end zone.

Midway through the fourth quarter, speedster Jim Weck rambled 73 yards for Lemont's final tally. On an end play, John Dunn went in for a 2 pointer as our lead mounted to 26-0.

Coaches Bob Voss and Lou Kuk substituted freely in the final period.

Finally, with the ball resting on Lemont's 26 yard line, a reverse maneuver caught Lemont off balance and half-back Bob Dhuse scampered practically unmolested into payoff territory. Rick Williams then swept right for the 2 pointer that sealed our doom.

Lemont still had 1:53 left to get back the lead. Hennebry connected with Dick Pierce for a 17 yard gain to Lemont's 43. Mike then hit Mark Sniegowski at the Yorkville 36, but a 15 yard holding penalty cut short this final effort.

in turn creates further unemployment. Now that we have a nice percentage of the population unemployed we are told the economy is healthy. If you understand this foregoing bit of economic logic explain it to your congressman.

Digression leads to apathy and being one step away from tears I shall return to the subject at hand. As a youth I was indoctrinated in the theory that the epitome of the American dream is to obtain, cherish and hold inviolate some form of gainful (and legal) employment. In those dim, dark days of parental respect I found it expeditious to listen and obey. The alternative was a not too gentle reminder that I was at the age of learning. For some reason I discovered delight in following the teachings of my parents.

Now, after more years than I care to recall, I find that my long years of financial poverty are to continue into my declining years. Federal income tax eats up 22 percent of every dollar before the state begins to mooch another sizable share of the paycheck. Oh yes, there is that ten percent surtax which deflates the Yankee dollar even further. Social Security pennies add up to dollars and what I end up with is a very emaciated weekly pittance. When I go to the bank to deposit my check the teller always asks, "Why bother?" What can I say?

By this time you may have the impression that I begrudge Uncle Sam his just due. You're wrong! I don't begrudge; I am downright indignant. And doling out a few bucks each week to the state isn't too bad if you mentally deficient. After all, the Governor does need a new mansion.

Federal income tax is actually a necessary bite into everyone's income. Without this largess there would be no Congressional junkets to Bermuda in mid-winter; to Europe in the summer and to the South Pacific on off days. The poor members of the elected hierarchy would not be able to hire $18,000-a-year assistants and $15,000-a-year urban transportation advisory positions would not be available for destitute (?) ballplayers.

Whatever the cost, we pay it and expect to pay even more. That's the high cost of progress, folks. Smile; be different.

ium to express their discontent with this damned distasteful war on the Asian mainland, to voice their discontent with current federal government policies, dislike dealing with one aspect of American life. They are so frustrated by this unpleasant war situation, that they will support a total and immediate pullout in Vietnam. They want us to believe that the Communists will be nice guys and follow some vague rules set down by a then defeated American "truce team."

Those more than 40,000 dead American soldiers and those more than 150,000 seriously wounded soldiers in this nation's military hospitals who join many more from the Korean War and World War II, should have a word to say about an immediate and total pullout. Their sacrifices should not be in vain.

That is the fraud of the so-called moratorium. It says to hell with our commitment, our investment and our honor. It says, the war is bad. Let us get out -- at any cost. It hands to the Communists their most significant victory.

All of us want an end to this war, this very bad war. But a nationwide dissent, if indeed it is nationwide, is not the way to accomplish it. This is not dissent, but defeatism. This country was not built on this type of defeatism and playing to the enemy, and it can not long survive on it today.

Better in these difficult times Americans, though hating this war with all their might, pull together and help bring it to a just conclusion.

Bell Has Center

WILL COUNTY -- More than 40 Illinois Bell telephone craftsmen and their trucks have moved into a new telephone company plant center in the industrial park east of Rt. 53 in Romeoville.

William A. Boyd, Illinois Bell wire chief, said that the new 88 by 250-foot plant center was constructed by the Pepper Construction Company of Chicago, and is being leased to Illinois Bell.

He said the company is using the new facility as a truck garage, supplies storage center, and office headquarters for telephone linemen, cable splicers, and installer-repairmen who serve areas north of Joliet.

"These men have worked out of smaller leased facilities at 711 State St. in Lockport for the past 12 years," Boyd explained. "Illinois Bell will no longer use the State St. center."

The new, larger Romeoville plant center provides space for about 50 installation-repair vans, splicing rigs and line trucks, Boyd said.

Dinner Set

LEMONT -- St. Alphonsus parish smorgasbord homecoming dinner will be held at the church hall, 603 State St., Lemont, on Oct. 26.

Cemetery service will be held at 3 p.m. at the St. Alphonsus Cemetery. In case of inclement weather the service will be held in the church.

WILLIAM J. SABO, president of the First National Bank of Lockport, has been appointed by Governor Ogilvie to serve on the Governor's citizen's advisory commission for the State of Illinois. He has also been appointed to serve on the business men's council of Lewis college. Sabo joined the First National Bank of Lockport in 1966 and was elected president two years later. He is currently a member of Lockport Lions club, Joliet YMCA, Lockport Moose Club, Joliet Elks Club, Joliet Region Chamber of Commerce, and the Will County Bankers club. He also is serving as vice president and director of the United Crusade of Will County, and director and vice president of the Lockport Economic Development Association.
